

New charges with effect from Monday 28 April 2008

Customers using the search rooms in New Register House will wish to know that with effect from Monday 28 April 2008, new charges will apply for access.

Weekly and four weekly passes will not be available from this date. Also the current part day searches, which start from 13:00, will cease. Instead customers can pay £10 for access at any time during the day, depending on availability.

Bookings can only be accepted for full days, where we will hold your place until 10:00, after which, unless you contact us, we will let someone else use it.

A4 prints will continue to be available at 50p each.

Details of the new charges are given below:
